

SKI JUMP IN GYM AFTER GAME TONIGHT

Whiskerino Violators Beware !!

"Football players need not grow beards, but they must substitute sideburns or mustaches," stated Mert Stroh, general chairman of the Whiskerino contest. Penalties for non-conformers are placement in a stockade or being tossed into a mud pit which will be constructed soon by low freshman boys.

Any boy who feels that a mangy-looking beard will hinder him in an outside place of employment may bring his plea for a clean-shaven look before a Pep Club board who will pass judgment on whether or not the fellow is worthy of a shave-permit.

Committees were appointed this week to assist Mert in arranging for the contests, field day, dinner, and dance, which will close with the Whiskerino-Ribbonero contest on November 15.

Prizes will be awarded at the dance for outstanding beards and ribbons. Men may shave their beards in a design if they wish, or they may qualify in the division for thickest beards, darkest beards, etc.

Judges for the Whiskerino fray will be members of the junior college faculty.

WAC UNITS, RUBBER PLANT IN DISCUSSION

The opening of the WAC housing units at the Salinas Army Air Base, and the possible use of a portion of the land and buildings on the Emergency Rubber Project were on the agenda of business conducted at a recent meeting in San Francisco.

In the early part of the week, Mr. Lemos, Mr. Nelson Sewell, principal of the Salinas Union High School, and Fred McCargar, secretary of the chamber of commerce, met with federal agencies in San Francisco to complete arrangements for the WAC housing units at the Salinas air base and to try to acquire property of the rubber plant for the training of veterans in vocational work. They were told that by the time they returned to Salinas, the Monterey County Housing Authority should have received notice of permission to open the WAC units at the air base. These dormitories will be open to men veteran students enrolled in Salinas Junior College and house approximately 160 men.

Tentative Plans Made To Have Guest Speaker At WSSF Assembly

Tentative plans have been made by the World Student Service Fund to have Miss Henrietta Jacoba Roosenburg, of the Netherlands, speak at a general assembly on November 4, at 9 o'clock. Students are asked to please watch the next issue of The Panther Sentinel for any possible change in these plans.

Miss Roosenburg is a graduate of Leyden in Languages, Literature, and History.

Early in the occupation of Holland, Henrietta Roosenburg enlisted in the underground resistance movement. Sought by the Gestapo because of her activities in helping the Jews and helping to edit an underground paper, she went into hiding for a time. She then became a responsible courier, carrying military and political information into neutral and allied countries. In March, 1944, she was arrested by the Gestapo in Belgium. After months of interrogation, she was condemned to death for espionage. Her execution was stayed and she was transferred to Germany and confined to various concentration camps until liberation came in May, 1945.

As a student, Miss Roosenburg was active in several student societies. She is a member of International Student Service and is in

Substitutes Fill In for Mr. Eris' Language Classes

Mrs. W. Scott Terry, Mrs. Grehm, and Mrs. R. W. Parker have been substituting for the past two weeks for Mr. Louis Eris during his illness.

Mrs. Grehm has been teaching French and Mrs. Parker, Spanish. Both are former S.U.H.S. instructors, and had to leave to attend other duties.

Mrs. Terry, also a former teacher, is still instructing the French and Spanish classes.

La Reatas Ordered

The La Reata order has been given to the printers for 550 books, and the padded covers have been ordered from a company in Chicago. Placing the order with the printers does not mean that the printing is being done now, but insures the best quality for the annual. Pictures are still being taken.

Freshman group pictures were taken Wednesday morning, October 23, on the front steps of the men's gym.

Special appointments now have been made for sophomore pictures. Sophomores may sign their names on the board for any time from 2 to 5:30 p.m. if they will do so at least two days before the appointment date so the appointment can be made with Cook's Photo Studio. Also, ap-

SAN JOSE STATE APPROVED BY EDUCATION DEPARTMENT TO OFFER GENERAL SECONDARIES

Students preparing themselves for a teaching career will be interested in knowing that San Jose State College has been approved by the State Department of Education to award general secondary credentials. In the past they have been permitted to give only "special" secondary credentials and elementary credentials.

Possession of a general secondary credential will enable the holder to teach in high schools

LITTLE JOE STILL NAMELESS

The gruesome and gory details have been exposed. Lena the Hyena has a face! But, poor "Little Joe" still doesn't have a name.

Last Thursday, a contest was started by the Pep Club for the purpose of naming the little bespectacled "son" of Finis Jeffer's pencil who is now appearing on all posters.

Tuesday, the judges read the names thus far entered, and because most of them were inappropriate, have decided to extend the contest for another week. Some of the names handed in were "Gismo," "Percy," "Algy," and "Ciro."

There is a box posted on the bulletin board in the main hall. "Little Joe" has asked us to urge J.C. students to place a name for him in the box.

SKI CLUB SPONSORS DANCE

Tonight a "Ski Jump," sponsored by the Ski Club, will be held in the men's gym following the game with Reedley. There will be three hours of dancing to the music of Tony Vyeda and his orchestra of Watsonville.

Ski equipment valued at $50 will be given away during the evening as a door prize, reveals Howard Hushbeck, chairman of the dance and head of the music committee. The equipment will include skis, poles, bindings, and adaptors (devices to make the skis into an emergency sled).

The "jump" will be held from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m. The men's gym is to be decorated like a ski lodge. Jacquie Anderson is the chairman of the decoration committee. During the intermission period, refreshments will be served. Refreshment chairman is Roger Erickson.

Other committee chairmen are: Kenny Abbott, publicity; Ruthie Alarid, clean-up; and Frank Kellogg, finance.

The "jump" should be a big success, and those from Reedley attending the game are invited. Admission prices will be $1 for couples and 75 cents for stags. Tickets are now on advance sale by Ski Club members.

PLANS MADE FOR 'RAINY DAY' DANCES

"Rainy Day" dances will soon take place in the women's gym. The dances will be held during the hour 12 noon to 1 o'clock on the days that it is raining.

Because students have no place to go on days that it is raining, the associated students are making arrangements to have a loud speaker set up in the gym during the lunch hour. The loud speaker, which will transmit music from the record player, will enable students to dance to the music

Thinking Out Loud

By PEGGY ANNE TAYLOR

There's a possibility for the construction of a huge industry at the Salinas Junior College. This industry would concern itself with the making of cigarettes from the multitudinous barrels of cigarette "butts" lying on the grass and the sidewalks directly opposite the north-side entrance of the junior college.

If some ingenious student were to gather all the cigarette remains lying around the college, particularly within "Smoker's Square," he would have the materials for the development of a money-making business. Following the collection of the "butts" he could take them into the chemistry laboratory. Here, with the use of a mortar and pestle and a working crew of four or five students, he could grind the partially smoked cigarettes into a fine blended tobacco. Following this procedure, he could wrap the loose tobacco in "used" cinch notices and sell them to students at a cost of 10 cents a pack. Except for the slight salary being paid to his helpers, the manufacturer would be able to claim clear profit on the transaction. Selling one pack a day to each of 300 students for 180 school days, the owner of the business could clear $5,400.

Now, if the rest of the students in college wish to prevent one classmate from getting the jump on them, the student commission will help out. Barrels and "weed" catchers will soon be placed at various spots on the campus. When these waste recipients are filled, they will be emptied in a secret spot, thus disposing of all the material which could be used in the proposed cigarette industry. In addition, these barrels will be large enough for the disposal of waste paper remains of the noon-hour lunch, and all other waste articles now strewn about the campus.

The moral of this little story is: "Don't save the waste. If you waste the waste, you'll find it's not waste."

Letter to Editor Re: Whiskerino

Editor:

Something should be done about the annual Whiskerino, at least certain exceptions should be made for our 'aged' veterans attending S.J.C. Perhaps the teen age kids can get by without serious consequences, but how about the veteran, who after a month's growth of whiskers, looks worse than Lena the Hyena? Supposing he wants to escort a classy chassis for a whirl in a swanky joint; he faces polite expulsion. Then how can any female in this modern age find any thrill in fondling a moth-eaten bag of whiskers?

Of course, the whisker tradition of dear old S.J.C. must continue by all means, but in view of the peacetime conditions, why not cut the duration down by a couple of weeks? Might not Halloween be a good time for passing final judgment on the hemmen of S.J.C.?

Historical Data Accumulated Reveals Both Whiskerino And Ribbonero Traditional in JC

WHISKERINO

Whiskerino is an old tradition at Salinas Junior College. During Whiskerino, all J.C. fellows must grow beards, or try to grow beards.

It is also part of the tradition to have the Frosh men dig a mud hole, and those who shave or do not please their upperclassmen during Whiskerino are tossed into the mud.

As the days go by, the whiskers presumably become darker and longer. Fuzz checkers have usually been Block "S" men. A shower of perfume has in past years been one of the penalties for not obeying Whiskerino law, paragraph 5, section 8, volume I: "Thou shalt not shave." In 1940, permits to shave were purchased for 25 cents and a good excuse.

Whiskerino and Ribbonero have usually been terminated by a field day, Men's Club supper, and a dance or party to include the Ribbonero girls. Field day includes sack races, wheelbarrow races, the famous "mud brawl," and a tug-of-war, with the teams starting on opposite sides of the mud hole.

The beards have been judged at a supper in the men's gym. Faculty members act as judges, selecting the longest, blackest, mangiest and screwiest beards.

RIBBONERO

The women, not to be outdone by the men, started Ribbonero. Every S.J.C. lass must wear a ribbon not less than three inches wide. Until 1940, the ribbon had to measure only two inches in width, and Whiskerino and Ribbonero lasted only three weeks instead of four.

Stress has always been made on size, originality, and beauty of the ribbons. Usually a checking committee chosen from the U.G.C. measure the ribbons. If they do not meet the standard measurement, the punishment has been to tie the lawbreaker's hair in rags, and either to smear her face with lipstick or remove the make-up entirely.

A surprising number of unusual hair styles are revealed with the huge bows. The bows are made from anything from cellophane to dress ruffling, and are really very pretty. Prizes similar to those of the Whiskerino contest are given to the wearers of the prettiest, most original, and largest bows.

The closing event for the ribbon-whisker contest is a field day with games, dinner, and a dance, at which time prizes are awarded for bows and whiskers.

TELESCOPE NOW BEING REPAIRED

"The telescope on the roof of the main building probably has not been in the proper working condition for the past three years," indicates Mr. Wilson, instructor of astronomy here at Salinas Junior College.

The small "finder" telescope, which is placed on the large, 8-inch telescope, and is used to locate the celestial body which is to be studied through the large telescope, is undergoing the process of an overhaul at present.

Mr. Wilson expresses his eager hopes to complete the maintenance of the telescope in order to view such interesting "heavenly" bodies as Venus, which are now in the evening sky.

Mr. Norris, who has charge of the instructions in Physical Science 40A, also is anxious to get the full benefits of good working conditions of the telescope. His wishes are for his class to view certain nebulae, now in the sky, which have been undergoing discussion for many days.

SOCIETY AND FEATURES

CAMPUS CLOTHES

By PATTIE WEATHERBIE

A new thing is a good thing, especially when it replaces sloppy skirts and sweaters as Dolores Brendel's smart new outfit does. Dolores wears a tailored brown wool blouse with long sleeves—raglan in style. The corresponding skirt is a huge brown and white plaid, softly gathered in pleats. The connecting link is a wide turf tan leather belt that buckles in two of its many decorative eyelets. Very nice, Dolores!

Kenny Abbott was seen about in one of those wool sport shirts that look so casually right when also worn as a jacket. The color is deep wine which looks especially nice on a blond like Kenny, as well as on a brunet like Marvin Davis, the owner of the jacket!

While selling tickets to last Saturday's game, Marjorie Campbell looked very petite in a white cotton shirt waist. The Peter Pan collar overlapped vertical lace edging down the front which decreased in length when repeated at the sides, forming a "V" pattern. After the game, blonde Joy Huntington has a cozy change from her brief majorette costume to a beautifully fitted gray flannel suit with a very slender skirt.

Check this! Men and more men are wearing sport shirts with checks of all sizes and colors, but checks! Electric blue is the vibrant color of the small checks in Sebastian Lentini's wool shirt. Nick Faitos' wool sport shirt is also small checked but in black and white with large roomy breast pockets. The black and white checks in Wayne Henderson's sport shirt are much larger in thick wool, which lends the shirt a rugged quality. In the cool cotton category, John Young has a small bright green-and-white checked sport shirt. which concludes the topic!

The newest thing around school in accessories seems to be a doll or a panda bear! This new mode can be either cradled in the arms or dangled from the side. Some of the chief enthusiasts of this new style include Corolyn Gunnell, "Mike" Bell, Roberta Merrill, Joy Garcia, Betty Manville, Janet Armstrong, Ardie Terrill, Joan Peterson, Jean Lee, Jean Wilmeth, and Norma Larson—all Gamma Nu pledges.

VOTING FOR UGC HEADS TODAY!!

All women students enrolled in the college are urged to vote today for their candidate for U.G.C. offices. Voting will take place in the main hall between 12 noon and 4 o'clock.

At a U.G.C. (all women students) meeting held Monday in the women's gym, candidates were nominated for the various club offices open this year. Nominated for president were Peggy Anne Taylor, Ruth McBride, and Martha Breslauer; for vice-president were Frances Munoz, Pauline Peirson, and Tillie Sharp; and for secretary-treasurer, Lily Perez, Sue Armstrong, Shirley Paul, Eula Laughton, and Mary Anderson. These candidates will be voted upon today, and winners will be announced Monday.

Other business conducted at the meeting was the reading of the club constitution by the advisor, Miss June Handley, and the passing on rules which will govern the Ribbonero and be in effect until November 15.

Rules passed Monday, and now in effect, are:

(1) Every woman enrolled in S.J.C. must wear a ribbon at least 3 inches wide and 5 inches long in her hair—it may be larger.

(2) All low freshman women must wear, in addition to the ribbon, a junior college "dink."

Women not abiding by these rules will have all make-up removed, and their hair tied in rags by members of the vigilante committee. The vigilantes are: Pat Magnuson, Celia Hanson, Ruth McBride, Shirley Paul, Ada Hall, Beverly Staton, Mary Lou Balsley, Peggy Conner, Betty Marshall, Peggy Anne Taylor, Eugena Vaughn, and Martha Breslauer.

Salinas Runs Roughshod Over Cadet Eleven, 18-6

Smashing through the line for large gains, the Salinas Junior College ran rampant over the hard-charging San Mateo Merchant Cadets, 18 to 6, Saturday afternoon at the Burlingame High School stadium.

The locals unleashed a potent running game, mixing razzle-dazzle reverses with straight-away power plays. Halfbacks Wally Smith and Clarence Twitchell used a wide lateral play to sweep the ends for large gains, spreading the Cadet defenses.

Finding the defenses spread wide, the Panthers sent fullback Don Burke galloping through the line to tear off large pieces of yardage.

The Salinas line showed the fight and determination necessary to win ball games. Charging hard, the Panther linemen held the Mariners in check throughout the contest.

The lads from Burke the Lettuce City scored in the first period on a drive from the Cadet 37-yard line after Twitchell had intercepted a Mariner pass. The Panthers scored a first down on the Cadet 4-yard line after a series of line plays. Burke smashed over on the second try from the 3-yard stripe. The conversion attempt failed.

The Cadets boomed back in the second stanza with an aerial barrage that ended up in pay dirt when quarterback Borup shot a pass to left end Fitzpatrick who gathered the ball in on the 8 and scampered across for the lone San Mateo score. The conversion was blocked.

The third period went scoreless with the locals threatening to score throughout. Early in the period the Panthers pushed across a score when Twitchell pushed across from the 6-yard line, but officials called the play back for tripping. Late in the third stanza, Salinas pushed down to the 6-inch line just as the quarter ended.

Twitchell smashed over on the second play of the fourth quarter. Again Borges' conversion was wide, making the score 12 to 6.

The Panthers scored their last touchdown on the last play of the game as Frank Garnero swept left end for eight yards to climax a 47-yard drive.

Tournament Underway For Golfers

Miss June Handley's men's golf class took to the green last Thursday to commence the 36-hole, medal play golf tournament. Up to now, Miss Handley indicates, there are seven contestants signed up. The contest will terminate on Thursday, November 21.

The Salinas Country Club golf course is the scene of the year's first divot digger contest.

Miss Handley states that anyone interested in signing up for the tournament may do so by contacting either her or Bob Williams. Men who are interested, and are unable to commence play this week, may play their first nine holes next week. There will be prizes for the first and second low scores.

The seven men who have signed up so far are: Bob Williams, who is in charge of play; Don Fry, Howard Hushbeck, Dick Mignola, Ken Collins, Wendell Olson, and Marvin Davis.

Miss Handley comments that she is especially interested in having a larger number of contestants than have now signed up.

BAND TO PLAY AT GAME

The college band will be on hand again for the game tonight with Reedley College to give another sparkling performance.

At the last home game here with Modesto the Jaysee band turned in a fine performance under the able instruction of Mr. Lorell McCann and the splendid leadership of drum major Bernard Poduska. Bernard did a fine job two weeks ago at the Modesto game and has been working hard for two weeks to get the band in shape for tonight's game, stated Mr. McCann.

The whole band has been working hard to ready themselves for the half-time performance tonight in the local stadium, and will be on the field in the colorful maroon uniforms with the gold trim. The band will be ready with some snappy new marches and it is hoped that the band will receive the full sup-

By BILL THACKER

Another Salinas Junior College athletic team will make its bid for recognition a week from Sunday when winter baseball makes its debut on the Monterey Peninsula. The Panthers, Carmel Legion, Monterey Legion, Pacific Grove Merchants, and the Stolte Construction Company will combine to form a five-team league, with games to be played on Sundays at the Monterey and Pacific Grove ball diamonds.

Salinas will send over a strong team that may well be up high in the final standings. Tom Perez, "Topper" Arnett, and Finis Jeffers are just a few of the loyal sons who are rounding into shape in preparation for the first pitch. Perez held down the "hot corner" for the championship Monterey squad in the Mission League while Arnett and Jeffers were battery mates on last year's Panther nine.

The league will be wide open, and the collegians should be in there all the way.

Reports from the Rocky Mountain region bode no good for Coach Ed Adams' footballers. Mesa Junior College, Salinas' opponent in the final game of the season, have been burning up the turf back in the hill country. Their most recent triumph a 26-to-0 decision over Snow College. If the Panthers can knock over their visitors from Colorado to end the season, you may consider the grid season somewhat of a success.

Watch Coach "Red" Blaik's Army eleven ramble now that they've gotten their bearings. Any team that can drop a good Columbia team by a 48 to 14 count is on its way to the mythical national championship for the third year in a row.

Football Results

San Francisco J.C. jumped into the lead in the "A" division of the Northern California Junior College Conference by dumping Modesto, 14 to 0, last week, while San Mateo pounced on Sacramento, 15 to 0. Salinas took the measure of the Merchant Marine Cadets, 18 to 6, while Santa Rosa swamped Yuba, 35 to 0, and Marin eked out a 7-to-6 victory over Placer. The latter two games were "B" division contests. Menlo and Visalia are now tied for top spot in the "B" division.

port of the student body, Mr. McCann said.

Teams Renew Rivalry In Non-Conference Tilt

Fresh from an 18-6 victory over the San Mateo Merchant Marine Cadets, the Salinas Panthers, with their fangs finally bared, play host to the visiting Reedley Tigers in a non-conference tilt at the Salinas field tonight.

This contest will renew an old rivalry, one that ended in 1938, with the Panthers running roughshod over the Tigers by a score of 39-0. That was a long time ago, however, and a lot could have occurred in those eight years.

Reedly, thus far, has played three contests. They lost a practice game to the U.S.C. Frosh by a 53 to 0 score, and they won a 7-0 game from Taft Junior College in a conference game. They defeated Santa Maria J.C. last week 22-13.

The one advantage that the locals have is that they have played more games, and hence are more experienced on the field of battle.

The Panthers looked unbeatable in last Saturday's 18-6 win over the Cadets. The ball carrying of big Don Burke and Wally Smith was nothing less than sensational. Clarence Twitchell, as usual, was a big gun in the Panther offense and defense also.

The line play was the biggest asset the Panthers showed, however, as they consistently outcharged the Cadet forward wall, and held gains by opposing backs to a minimum. The outstanding line play also meant the difference between mediocrity and excellence for the Panther backs.

Ralph Serrano, Chet Garnero, and John McPike, the latter playing his first starting role, shone in the front ranks for the Panthers.

All in all, it looks like a good ball game is on tap for this Friday night, what with the Panther determined to keep on winning.

Stockton Game Moved Here

Salinas' Armistice Day activities will be climaxed by the Salinas J.C.-Stockton J.C. football game in the local stadium, Coach Ed Adams announced this week. The change in date and location was made at the request of local veterans and with the cooperation of Stockton college officials.

The game was previously scheduled to be played at Stockton on November 8.
